HOW MUCH

Each Experience is available to teens 14 – 18 years of age at a cost of $600.00 per camp.

WHAT

Three interconnected multimedia production Experiences*:

In the Field Production Experience, teens will conceptualize video “packages” and collect the raw footage to be utilized later in the Non-Linear Editing (NLE) Experience.

In the NLE Experience, teens will string together raw footage into coherent video stories, and add polish to the packages with music and basic graphics.

Finally, the Studio Production Experience will utilize the video packages created in the previous two Experiences as part of a “LIVE to file” television studio production.

The Teen Production Experiences will culminate in a “premiere” party that teens from all three Experiences and their parents are invited to attend.

Arlington Independent Media (AIM) is a 501(c)3 nonprofit membership organization (tax ID 54-1217109) and community media center in Arlington, Virginia. We provide training and access to media technologies and facilitate the creation of video, audio, web and digital content. AIM is committed to cultivating the voices in our community that might otherwise not be heard.

We build our community by bringing independent voices together to exchange ideas, opinions, and artistic expressions. By providing comprehensive basic training, master-level advanced instruction, a fully equipped digital production facility, content rich website and channels delivered to every Arlington cable subscriber, we make people into producers, not just consumers, of media.
